

Land Trade isn't Right for Parks

What looks like an oversized land swamp with the Bear Lake, Cisco Beach, property for Wasatch State Park Property, is actually equal in value, but it may be detrimental to the public.

The State Lands Division has suggested that the trade be made so that public areas could be made available on the famed Cisco Beach in Bear Lake, while giving away, what we feel, is some of the prime public lands in Wasatch County, and the State Park System.

The 1,250 acres of Wasatch Mountain State Park is located in the northeast corner of the park, and overlooks U.S. 40 north of Heber City, near the proposed Jordanelle Reservoir. While this part of the State Park is not yet developed, there will come a time when the State Park will develop it to accomodate the added inflow when the Jordanelle is constructed.

Giving away such a large public piece of land for a beach in Bear Lake is almost ridiculous. There will be thousands of visitors to the State Park if developed properly due to its proximity to the Salt Lake area. Certainly there is a need to save a part of Cisco Beach, but let's not trade acreage which is choice playground for the Wasatch area.

We feel that if the governor and the legislators give up this piece of property there will be a grave error that will have to be corrected somewhere down the road.

Let's keep our eyes open, and make sure that the trade, if any is made, will definitely be in the best interest of the state.

We are pleased with our local leaders in their efforts to stop the trade, and hope they continue to address the proper authorities letting them know the mistake it would be for this exchange to take place.

u don't have to spend a lot of ne or money to provide your ildren with some quality tivities. By spending a little ought and time initially, Mom usually much better off, with ppy, entertained children and ne on her hands to do what she ants to do. Children are nerally happier involved in me constructive play than just p-hazardly running around.
Your children would probably joy doing chalk drawings on rk colored construction paper.
ray the drawings with hair ray to set the colors.

two little ones draw on the taped up paper. With water color markers if they get some on the fridge or the floor, it washes right off. This keeps their little hands busy so I can do my work.

I love your column! Keep up the good work.

Betty J.

Thanks for the clever idea and the good words, Betty.

Dear readers: I need your help! Send your tips, solutions, and questions to PARENTS'
HELP LINE, 250 North, 500 West, Heber City, Utah 84032 or call 654-2048.

oute for arade

in Midway Friday at 6:00 and Saturday morning at 10:00.

Degree

ys a week), earned an A- (3.67) de point average, maintained home and family, active in mmunity affairs (member

State Park to Hold Meeting

1984

State Park and Recreation will hold a meeting concerning the Deer Creek Plan, Friday, Nov. 9, 1984 at 9 a.m. at Wasatch Mountain State Park Visitors Center. Concerned citizens are invited to attend.

placemat to eat his dinner on.

PINE CONE TURKEY: On an out of the way table place a box of large pine cones, some white glue, safety scissors and several sheets of multi-colored construction paper. Make a pattern for the older children to use to make lots and lots of construction paper feathers and a turkey head. For smaller children then simply dip the wide end of the feathers into the white glue and stick them into the large end of the pine cone, the more feathers after dinner, while the men are trying to fall asleep on the sofa, the children put on their play for the grownups.

MAKE FAVORS: On a table place glue, scissors, tape, crayons, construction paper, and nut cups. Have the children design (you may want to give them a pattern) turkey heads and tails or little pilgrims out of construction paper. They are kept busy cutting them out and gluing or stapling them to the nut cups and then filling the nut cups